New York, Dec. 28 (U.P.).—With only 24 hours more to go on his five-day gabfest, and public interest in the enterprise still magnificently torpid, it began to look tonight as though Prof. Milton D. Crandall, impresario of siliness, had fooled himself for a change.

The mutter marathon today filled the huge Seventy-first Regiment Armory only with a vast disconsolateness, while Crandall's expenses mounted and his 14 survivors of the original 31 entrants mumbled incoherently to themselves under the sad gaze of a hand-would be encountered, they abandoned to go the same of the brambles and underbrush which which was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago last summer, while a leather Jacket, and the was given to him by his cowboy friends in South Dakota a year ago at the broad with the was given to him by his cowboy.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Har vard Observatory, explained Dr. Adams' paper by saying:
"The measured velocity of 2,500 milea a second is, I believe, not a measure of actual motion, but more probably a measure of 'crumpling of space,'—a relativity effect. One of the deductions from the general theory of relativity is that the space-time universe is 'finite, but unbounded,' and that very distant objects should show a spurious velocity of recession." Policies of U.S. Frankly Told, Removing Wrong Views, Say Associates.

TARIFF STAND CLEARED

On Board U. S. S. Utah en Route to Hampton Roads, Dec. 28 (A.P.).—The visit of President-elect Hoover to Latin America, in the judgment of some of his immediate associates, has served to remove a number of misunderstandings, particularly as to the United States' attitude on intervention and tariff policies.

States' attitude on intervention and tariff policies.

They believe more cordial relations will result, as the Latin-Americans now have had the opportunity to meet and know the President-elect and present their own viewpoints, so as to enable him bettier to comprehend their aspirations and problems.

The questions of intervention and tariff arose, particularly in the Argentine, where there has been considerable propaganda, described as of foreign origin, against the United States. There has been some feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, both over the tariff on corn and flax and on the Nicaraguan question.

Hoover Talked Freely. Hoover Talked Freely.

Mr. Hoover and his associates talked very frankly with President Yrigoyen and members of his cabinet on these subjects. They left with the feeling that at least the American viewpoint had been presented to the Argentines so that there will be a better understanding of it than ever before. The President-elect, in his discussions with President Yrigoyen, emphasized what has long been his own viewpoint, that is, that there is no policy on the part of the United States of intervention into the affairs of its sister republics, but a desire to be mutually helpful and to exchange ideas and suggestions for the benefit of all.

Mr. Hoover explained further that when local conditions produced anarchy in any country, the United States is nearestly more when local conditions produced anarchy in any country, the United States is naturally more interested than any other nation that such conditions should no recur. Bacteriologists Are Told That should no recur.

He called attention, nowever, to the fact that in cases of intervention for the protection of American life and property, the United States has withproperty, the United States has with-drawn as soon as a stable government has been set up, and has asked nothing for itself in the way of territory, or even in repayment of the expenses and maintenance of its armed force. He pointed out that this policy is any-thing but an exhibition of imperialistic design.

The President-elect's discussions on the tariff question with the Argentine officials were general, covering a wide range and desling particularly with business and economic aspects. The President-elect made it clear that the United States has to protect its own Richmond, Va., Dec. 28 (A.P.).—Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, of the University of Chicago, was elected today president of the Society of American Bacteriologists the Society of American Bacteriologists at its annual meeting here. Dr. S. Bane Jones, of the University of Rochester, was named vice president, and Dr. James Sherman, of Cornell University, was reelected secretary treasurer. Attracting considerable attention at today's session of the society was the discussion by Dr. Rachel E. Haffstadt and associates, of the University of Washington, of a new method of protection against typhold fever. The new method, it was explained, consists of feeding dead germs to humans instead of the present intra-muscular injection of dead germs.

Dr. Haffstadt declares that in the present method many unpleasant re-United States has to protect its own markets for its own producers because of markets for its own producers because of the situation resulting from wartime overproduction. He further emphasized that the United States tariff was not almed against Argentina, but merely covered a general protection policy similar to that toward other countries.

During these discussions, which were described as most triendly, suggestions were made that the Argentine government translate some of its own exportable corn into cattle and hogs, and that the Argentine produce more of the articles now imported, such as vegetable oils, as a means of improving its own agricultural situation.

Morgue, Dark Room and Engraving Processes Hold Attention of Ray Miller, Victor in Essay-Writing Competition for Students.

By RAY MILLER (Big News Contest Winner.)

Today I got a glimpse that was really a good, long look into the assembling of a newspaper, its "private life" in the home building. First I was ushered into the filing room, with its rowafter row of massive cabinets. In one after row of massive cabinets. In one section are kept all the photographs that have ever been used, that is, all of prominent people whose pictures are likely to be needed at another time. Each man has an envelope or several envelopes, containing the photos, an explanation of the incident or event at the time each was aken, and a short biography. Thus in a few minutes all the information desired about a man can be secured, together with an appropriate cut and caption. The sports department has a file to itself. In another row is an alphabetical reference guide for every article of importance published in the paper. Each morning a copy of The Post is dissected and the headlines and cuts labeled to be stored away in this file. This room is known as the "morgue." Then there was the dark room, where

It was toward the end of being turned into these raised dots that the picture went through all the next stages. It had already been determined how large the cut must be. A huge camera at the right distance on r traveling base, "snapped" the pic-ture through a network of fine wire, which supplied the impression on the glass plate with the necessary dots. This impression was toughened by solutions, stripped off the glass, and super-imposed on another with a background prepared for it. The carefully constructed plate was then pressed very tightly on a zinc sheet, so that the form on the glass, dots and all, was left on the sheet by means of acid resisting ink. When the sheet was put in a tub of acid, the acid simply ate into the zinc where there was no ink, leaving the raised dots protected against it, and the plate was completed, ready for the processes in the rooms below to place a duplicate on the press forms. hich supplied the impression on the

WILSON'S BIRTHDAY MARKED IN CAPITAL

War President Is Praised as "Last Liberal" by William E. Dodd at Meeting.

F. A. DELANO ALSO SPEAKS

Admirers of Woodrow Wilson assembled last night in the Women's National Democratic Club to commemorate the anniversary of his birth.

Prof. William E. Dodd, of the University of Chicago, gave an address on "Woodrow Wilson, the Last Liberal." in which he paralleled the struggles for democracy undergone by the three great liberals—Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson.

"All seers seem at first to fail, but in the end the principles for which they fight triumph. Jefferson lost his last struggle—freedom for the slaves; Lincoln lost his life for the Union; and Wilson went down for world democracy," he said.

"Even when he seemed defeated Wilson when the seemed defeated will."

Wilson went down for world democracy," he said.
"Even when he seemed defeated Wilson never lost faith in the cause of democracy, or his courage in the cause," Dodd said. "He fought for the principles."

Dodd said. "He fought for the principles of democracy in the first administration, and also in his second, when he dared what appeared the impossible—to give democracy to all the world." Prof. Dodd was followed by Frederic A. Delano, president of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, which sponsored the meeting; and charles S Hamlin, Federal Reserve Board. Hamlin urged the adoption of the peace pact, even thought it may be the shadow of the Wilsonian ideal.

During the day a wreath from the codrow Wilson Foundation was placed Woodrow Wilson Foundation was placed upon the tomb of the War President at Mount St. Albans. Another wreath from an unidentified admirer of the late President was placed upon the tomb.

New York, Dec. 28.—The generosity of an American husband, who took a French bride for himself, releasing her the same day so that she could scour the four corners of the earth for a better man than him, marked the beginning of a romance which resched its climax this morning at the Hotel Pennsylvania, when his bride returned to him.

KELLOGG MAKES PLEA FOR ANTIWAR TREATY GRIPPING PLAY

Monroe Doctrine Protected. He Tells Committee on Foreign Relations.

(United Press.)

The Monroe Doctrine is protected by the antiwar treaty because it rests upon the right of self-defense which the treaty recognizes, Secretary of State Kellogg told the Senate foreign relations committee when questioned recently, according to an official transcript of the testimony made public last night.

Secretary Kellogg also told the committee the United States was not morally bound to go to war against any nation which violated the treaty and that the recognition of Russia was not involved merely because the United States and Russia were both parties to a multilateral agreement.

Secretary Kellogg edited his testimony before it was made public last night. The revised text will be used by administration senators in defending the treaty during the fight of the deal man, gradually unfolds the dramatic story of love, hate. Not till the final gripping moment is European Nations Signed Treaty.

"Why, gentlemen," Secretary Kellogg told the senators, "every country in Europe which could make war on Central or South America has signed this treaty; and if they did make war they would break it, and we would be released anyhow. Here is a shadow! Even without this treaty, does anybouy believe that the present governments of Europe are in any position to attack any one of the South American countries and impose the r form of government? And they all have different forms of government from what they had 100 years ago."

This last point was in reference to Dectrine which opposed any European power imposing its form of government on any part of the western hemisphere.

"The Monroe Doctrine," Secretary Kellogg said at another point, "is simply a doctrine of self-defense. It does not consist of any agreement between the United States and that we store the romany country in the western hemisphere or anywhere else. * * it is unnecessary for me to go through all the titerances of every statesman from the time of Monroe Doctrine, "resident Monroe Doctrine, "resident Monroe Doctrine, to show what the Monroe Doctrine, to show the world, planning a fearful revenue to the United States, and that we should co

"Every nation will construe the treaty for itself, as to what constitutes self-defense, and it does not make any difference what you said and what was stated afterward, when the time comes, what she regards as self-defense she what she regards as self-defense she what she regards as self-defense she will construe as self-defense."

Senator Swanson, Virginia, Democrat, sked if the United Stater was morally bound to go to war against any nation riolating the treaty. Kellogg replied there was no such obligation. The Secretary also emphatically said

The Secretary also emphatically said that participating in a multilateral treaty to which Russia is a party does not involve recognition of Russia. "We have four multilateral treaties to which Russia is a party, and nobody ever claimed that one of them was a recognition of the Russian regime at all." Kellogs said. "I have looked that up carefully, and have given instructions to our ministers about the subject."

Arbitration Pact Draft

Transmitted to China

(Associated Press.)

Negotiation of an arbitration treaty between the United States and China has been initiated, the State Department announced yesterday, by transmission of a draft pact to the Chinese Minister, S. Trial of Mrs. Wilson Postponed 11th Time

Special to the Washington Post.

New York, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Esther Evans Wilson, big game huntress and Washington, D. C., society woman, was granted an eleventh postponement today of her trial for violating the Sullivan antifirearms law. This time the postponement was made indefinite in special sessions, pending trial of the more serious charge against her of having shot and seriously wounded her husband, Dallett H. Wilson, wealthy patent attorney, in his Fifth avenue offices last March.

The wedding ceremony was performed at the winter home of the bride's parents, only a few relatives and friends witnessing the ceremony. The bride groom is 54 years of age and the bride is 27. She is a granddaughter of former Gov. George White Baxter of Tennessee.

State Official Admits $100,000 Defalcations

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 28 (A.P.).—
State Treasurer John Walker announced today that David J. Pugh, a deputy in his office, had confessed defaications of more than $100,000.

The alleged peculations, it was declared, were discovered when Walker made a final check of his accounts pre-liminary to turning over the office to his successor next month. Pugh was declared to have made no effort to cover up the alleged shortage. He told Walker, the latter said, that he had bet the money on horse races.

Court Holds Indiana Governor's Pardon of Shumaker Illegal.

ATTORNEYS TO SEEK WRIT

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28 (U.P.).—
The Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Antisaloon League, must serve a 60-day sentence on the State farm for contempt, the Supreme Court ruled today in holding illegal a pardon issued by Gov. Ed Jackson on October 18.

The State prohibition leader was sentenced originally after publication of his annual report two years ago, in which he allegedly referred to the supreme court body as "wet."

Shumaker fought the sentence for several months in the court, but finally surrendered last October to serve the term. He arrived at the prison farm on October 19, but a pardon from the governor already had been received and Shumaker was released.

Refuses to Apologize.

Considerable controversy arose after the Issuance of the pardon and a de-mand was made for Shumaker to apolo glize to the court. Shumaker's friends countered with statements that they elieved the Antisaloon League sup endent had acted sincerely and he re General Arthur L. Gillion

Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom petitioned the supreme court for an opinion on Gov. Jackson's pardon power and the ruling today was made on that petition Shumaker's attorneys in connection with the shooting Thursday night in Montgomery County, Md., of Henry Collins, 35-year-old market man, during an altercation over the latter's wife, a marked improvement was reported in Collins condition at Georgetown University Hospital last night, and it is believed he will recover.

The injured man's wife, attentions to whom on the part of Cappy are said to have been resented by Collins and to have led to the shooting, announced yesterday that in the event that her husband presses charges against his alleged assailant, she will testify in Cappy's behalf. She declared that Cappy had been a friend of the family for several years and strenuously denied that there had been any "love led that there had been any "love".

Cappy's behalf. She declared that Cappy had been a friend of the family for several years and strenuously denied that there had been any "love affair" between him and herself.

The shooting took place Thursday night in front of the Collins' home in Glen Echo, Md., when Mrs. Collins returned home from a church Christmas celebration in Cappy's automobile. According to Mrs. Collins, there had been hard feelings between her husband and Cappy for a week, because of gossip concerning the friendship of the latter and Mrs. Collins, and Collins is said to have warned Cappy to keep away from his wife.

Infurlated Thursday night when he saw Mrs. Collins escorted home by Cappy, Collins said yesterday at the hospital that he upbraided the man and that when Cappy started to leave in his automobile he threw stones after him. Cappy then got out of the automobile and fired four shots at him, he said.

Saturday, December 29, 1928. A QUESTION OF HONOR.

The government of Paraguay makes the grave charge that Bolivian military forces have advanced twelve miles into the territory claimed by both countries, an act that is in disregard of the agreement made by both Bolivia and Paraguay to suspend operations while awaiting adjustment of their recent differences by a commission to be appointed by the Pan-American conference.

Sinister influences are at work to bring about war over the disputed territory, in which petroleum is said to have been dis-

The honor of the two governments concerned is now involved in the agreement looking to adjustment of this dispute by peaceful means. Neither government can now play fast and loose with the governments belonging to the Pan-American Union without incurring the severest penalties that could fall upon a nation—penalties that are not measured in terms of force, but in loss of prestige and destruction of confidence, which are rarely regained, and which are enough to blast the fortunes of any

The capture of all the disputed territory by either Bolivia or Paraguay, at the cost of its honor, would be the most ruinous adventure it could undertake. It does not seem possible that any men responsible for government in either country could be seduced or coerced into.a betrayal of their country's richest possession-its honor-for the sake of gaining possession of territory not clearly established to be its own. The fact that Bolivia and Paraguay took steps to arbitrate the title to the territory in question is an admission that neither of them could establish title otherwise. Their agreement to arbitrate, and their recent agreement to seek a settlement of border disputes through the good ofces of the Pan-American Conference. earned the respect of all American countries and paved the way for a just and lasting peace. If this peace should now be broken for the sake of grasping territory supposed to contain rich resources the aggressor in the case would never live down the infamy of the act.

The friends of Bolivia and Paraguay, who comprise all the other republics, including the United States, earnestly hope that the two governments will hold a firm hand over their bellicose troops on the border and put an absolute stop to all military movements until the proposed conciliation commission has performed

WHAT BECOMES OF THEM.

When one considers the collegiate flivvers that shamble through the streets of every American city one is apt to conclude that automobiles never wear out. But experience teaches that even the best and most sturdy of machines in time reaches the end of its usefulness. What becomes of broken-down automobiles? What does the owner of a fifth-hand motor car of 1915 vintage do when it coughs its last note? If he lives in Cleveland he has it hauled to the municipal smelter, where it s melted down and sold as junk metal. If he lives in New York he takes it surreptitiously to the Bronx and abandons it in a vacant lot. At any rate, that is what the Bronx Board of Trade says he does, and it asks the New York City authorities to do something to prevent broken-down automobiles from becoming eyesores and depreciators of property values.

It seems that New York City will not accept decrepit automobiles at its dumps, so the owner of a vehicle no longer marketable (it is asserted that there are such) is driven to the surreptitious use of vacant lots. One car shed under cover of darkness into a vacant int acts as a magnet to attract others. Fremently, says the Board of Trade, it costs from $100 to $200 for the purchaser of a lot to remove the pile of battered tonneaus, rusted chassis and frayed upholstery remnants. It is suggested that a municipal smelter be established in New York where such decrepit hulks could be melted into junk metal, or that provision be made for towing them to sea where they could be tossed to the fishes.

How does Washington dispose of its brokendown automobiles? There seems to be no lots are being used as dumping places. Can it be that there is something in the Washington climate that makes them like the deacon's one-hoss shay?

BUYERS MUST NOT TRANSPORT LIQUOR.

Federal Judge Kirkpatrick's decision that the purchaser of bootleg liquor is guilty of conspiracy if he helps to bring about the transportation of liquor will probably be reviewed by the Supreme Court. The decision relates to transportation, not to purchase. The judge holds that the purchase of liquor is not an offense under the prohibition law, but that if a purchaser becomes a party to an agreement for the transportation of liquor he violates the law. The penalty for such an offense is a fine only, such as is imposed for transportation, and the element of conspiracy in this instance is not an aggravation of the

This decision will have a strong deterrent influence by causing purchasers of liquor to beware of becoming involved in an agreement to transport liquor. No doubt the prohibition enforcement bureau will redouble its energies in running down transporters of liquor. It is not only warranted in doing so, but must do so if the law is to be enforced. Bootleggers will be handicapped by this decision, as they will be unable to make advance contracts with buyers who are aware of the great risk involved in making such a contract. Apparently the only safe rule for the purchaser to adopt is to make no agreement whatever with a bootlegger. If liquor is produced and a purchase made on the spot, without previous agreement, the buyer will be safe, although the seller may be punishable; but even in this case the buyer will be liable to prosecution for unlawful possession.

There is no reason to doubt the validity of Judge Kirkpatrick's decision. It is in harmony with the law, which makes transportation of liquor a distinct offense. The court holds in effect that one who aids and abets transportation, while technically guilty of the grave crime of conspiracy, should not be punished by a fine exceeding that which would be imposed upon conviction for transportation.

BEAUTY IN ARCHITECTURE.

Speaking before the College Art Association of America, Prof. Sherley W. Morgan, of Princeton University, recently said that American architecture never would be a true expression of the spirit of the age, because business was more concerned with the practicability and usefulness of its buildings than with their beauty. The statement is patently absurd. If American builders are primarily concerned with practicability and usefulness, then those attributes are the spirit of the age. Yet no one can deny that Americans, to a greater degree than any other people, have been able to combine practicability and usefulness with beauty in their buildings.

It can not be denied that American architecture at one time was ugly. Too many specimens of the "horrible" age remain. All types of structures, commercial, residential and even factory, at one time were conceived with the idea of lavish, machine-made "ornament," or without any attention to esthetic details whatsoever, and many stand today, eyesores to the community. Within the last decade, however, a new school has been born.

In any city in the country one needs only to examine new buildings to realize that the American architect has developed a technique peculiarly American, in which beauty is outstanding, but in which practicability and usefulness have not been sacrificed. The pyramid office structure that has found such favor in New York, and which is rapidly finding favor elsewhere, can be compared favorably with the most beautiful temples ever built. Even factories today are situated in landscaped surroundings, and stand as beauty spots in the community. An ultimate, of course, has not been reached. There will always be need for including greater beauty in the design of buildings. The American architect, however, has made great progress in the last decade, and he may be depended upon to work out beautiful forms as well as titanic bulks.

SCIENTISTS IN CONCLAVE.

The powerful influence of science on modern life can only be realized when all the achievements of scientific research are brought together and made public at a great conference, such as that being held by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in New York. The latest findings in geology and paleontology: the most recent discoveries designed to prolong the life of man; the most abstruse experiments of the chemical laboratory; the most recent theories of the psychologist and sociologist are being given to the scientific world and to the public. The whole scope of science, from the age of the earth to measurements of a butterfly's heartbeats, is receiving attention.

One scientist announces the isolation of powerful hormones, which are the agencies that control life and growth through activity of the glands of internal secretion. The discovery is considered of utmost significance in the field of medical science, and the specific hormone just isolated is believed to be of prime importance in the treatment of diabetes. Another section of the conference was told that 500,000 children in the United States have been saved from orphanhood since 1900 because science has lengthened the span of

In another field of study sufficient evidence has been found upon which scientists feel justified in doubling the estimated age of the world and placing the new figure at approximately 1,000,000.000 years. Other eminent scientists advance the theory that the fourth glaciation period, about 100,000 years ago, is responsible for civilization of man. This view is that previous to the glacial periods there was a universally mild climate. The more severe temperatures drove men into caves, forced them to invent clothes, tools and fire,

These are but meager examples of how science is extending knowledge and making more advanced civilization possible. Only a fraction of the theories expounded at the present conclave will stand the test of time, but each of these will undoubtedly result in further re-There are few finalities in science Scientific opinion is relentlessly torn down and set aside each time a new discovery is made.

and finally developed the thinking process.

complaint from property owners that their to the unknown has resulted in a greater extension of knowledge than has ever been known before.

Yet with all science has done to improve the status of man and to extend the horizon of knowledge, the present gathering in New York is a striking reminder that only a start has been made. The world is filled with undiscovered truths that are of vital interest to humanity. It is inconceivable that the need for further technical research will ever pass. On the other hand, increased knowledge will bring about greater demand for luxuries and for more knowledge. There will be no end to the scientific conquest with nature.

Since science is perhaps the most vital factor in the future status of the world, it is encouraging to see so many men in America devoting themselves to lifting the veil of ignorance from our eyes. There are approximately 5,000 scientists at the present gathering, and it is estimated that nearly 2,000 technical papers on vital subjects will be read. Most of these men are giving their full time to research in highly specialized fields. Their progress is necessarily slow, but it is none the less sure. The future of the world is, to a large degree, dependent on the aggregate success of their endeavors.

PEDESTRIANS, WATCH THE LIGHTS!

The District Traffic Department has just completed another extension of the traffic signal system. The new semaphores on Thirteenth street have already brought about more orderly and expeditious movement of traffic and accident liability has been reduced. However, the traffic signal system can never be a complete success without cooperation of the public.

There is a tendency in Washington to regard the automatic signals as intended solely for regulation of motor traffic. It is just as essential to public safety that pedestrians pay attention to the red and green lights in cross ing streets. Until the semaphores stop walkers from crossing at intersections through a stream of motor cars their full value can never be

Where intersections are controlled by auto matic light signals pedestrians have a legal right to cross the street only when the traffic is stopped. The traffic rules plainly read:

"Pedestrians shall have the right of way at all crosswalks, except those controlled by traffic officers and traffic devices, and it shall be unlawful for any person to cross the roadway through moving traffic on any street upon which traffic is controlled by electric signal lights. Pedestrians shall yield the right of way to vehicular traffic whenever such traffic is moving on proper signal."

If a pedestrian starts across an intersection on the green light and the signals change before he reaches the curb it is up to the motorist to wait until the walker has reached a place of safety. Safety zones have been provided in the center of the streets in many instances to facilitate cases of this kind. If a person starts across the street on a red light however, or if he crosses any place but at the regularly established walks he is taking his life in his own hands and has no legal claim for damages in case of injury.

Motorists of Washington have been fairly well educated to the automatic signal system, but it is flagrantly violated by people on foot. The Traffic Bureau is still hoping that the desired cooperation will be forthcoming.

STUDY OF THE MIDDLEMAN.

The national wholesale conference held under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce has laid the groundwork for a comprehensive study of the middleman in business. Four committees are at work on the subject, and will prepare reports for a meeting of the conference early in 1929.

Satisfactory solution of the middleman problem is one of the first essentials to continued prosperity in the United States. The country is undergoing widespread changes. Consolidation of industries and business interests is being effected more rapidly than ever before. Virtually every major line of indusbinations during the past year, and it is estimated that 1929 will be one of the greatest years for business amalgamations in the financial history of this country. With both the manufacturers and retailers organized and doing business on a large scale, there is a tendency to squeeze out the middlemen.

A few years ago mergers were being effected to reduce production costs. There has been constant hammering on production economy, but neglect of selling costs. In many instances manufacturers have spent all their efforts to make production of an article cost a penny less, and have let it cost a nickel more to meet market competition and induce consumers to buy it. At present the majority of mergers are being made to cut distribu-

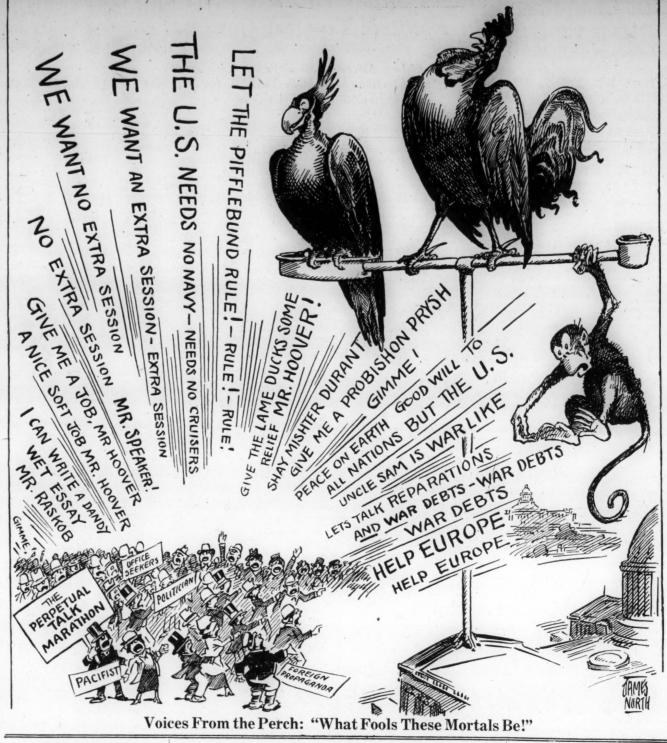

The greatest economic need of the country at present is some scheme which will carry the benefits of mass production over to consumers. Distribution has become a tremen dous business and its importance is constantly increasing. But distribution should not be so costly as to absorb all the benefits that have come from lower costs of production. Further efficiency in the economic system must come from readjustment of the machinery employed to make the products of the factory available in the home.

In so far as the middleman functions as an essential unit in distribution, his service is indispensable. But those organizations which take a profit for conveying goods from manufacturers to small retailers are likely to find their legitimate function diminishing. The need for certain wholesale service will not dis appear, but much of the business now transacted by middlemen will certainly be done directly between large manufacturing and retailing organizations. The problem of elimi nating unnecessary and parasitic wholesalers and retaining all those who render essential service is of first importance to business, and can well be given scientific study by the leading economists of the country.

The Sports Gamble With Big Money, But the Cards Are Just Pasteboard. By ROBERT QUILLEN

HESE are prosperous times," says the man in the street. "Look now than before prohibition. Before 1 at Consolidated Iron. It sold last year at less than par and now elling at 285. I wish I had bought a bunch of it."

Millions of people, having been told to do it, accept the activity of the stock market as proof of prosperity. And they envision two groups much no would would notice him of great financiers, called Bulls and Bears, fighting shrewdly to force prices up or down.

The picture is wholly imaginary. Note what really happens. Bill Smith, a little fellow in a little town, wants something for nothing. He wishes to gamble and get rich. And he thinks the price of stocks is going up. He is right in that, for thousands of others just like him feel the same who five years ago was able to reach way, and when they begin to buy they bid against one another and force

> Bill doesn't buy stock to hold. Its ability to pay dividends doesn't interest him. He buys stock to sell to somebody else at a profit. And the thousands like him buy for the same purpose-to get something there will be less of this kind of law without earning it.

Thus they make a "bull market" and prices keep on climbing. There is no end so long as the crop of suckers holds out. Bill can pay any price if he can unload on somebody else next day at a higher price. But it is the unloading that gets the profit, and unloading forces prices down. Some day Bill, and thousands like him, feel uneasy. They decide to sell out. But no more suckers appear and they must sell at a loss. heartily agree with your editorial or The men who had faith enough to buy find the market still slipping and they in turn sell at a loss.

The bottom has fallen out. Each buyer thinks the bottom has been reached, else he wouldn't buy. But he is mistaken and must find anbought toothpaste because it was other buyer, at a lower price. Every man who turns loose takes a loss. Until at last the stocks get down to their normal price—the price on which they can pay a reasonable dividend.

Now, just what has happened? A few thousand gamblers, bent on getting rich quick, have played a game with one another. That is all. it "adjourns" to a fixed day or hour They dealt in imaginary values and paper profits. Some lost and others it is not an adjournment at all. Yet,

And they affected the country only because their gambling tied up money needed by more useful men for more useful purposes.

If a stock that can pay fair dividends at a price of $100 is selling at $465, that doesn't mean the country is prosperous. It means that a country too pious to tolerate a lottery or roulette provides other entertainment for gamblers and the gamblers are betting high.

Are farmers and textile workers prosperous because an oil man bets a thousand dollars on four kings? That makes the price of kings high, time to study many of the bills passed but it doesn't lift a farm mortgage.

LINER WAR ILLEGAL, SAYS CUNARD CHIEF

Blake Tells Shipping Board's Head Use of Roosevelt Violates Law.

HINTS AT COURT ACTION

New York, Dec. 28 (A.P.).-Robert H Blake, associate director of the Cunard chairman of the United States Shipping

chairman of the United States Shipping Board, saying that the action of the board in assigning the liner President Roosevelt to the Ward Line for competition against Cunard service to Hawana is an illegal act, forbidden by the shipping act of 1910.

The Cunarder Caronia sailed from New York to Havana yesterday, its rates were higher than those of the Ward Line. The President Roosevelt sails on its first voyage for the Ward Line in about a week, and from then on will sail from the same ports on the same days that the Caronia departs.

The allocation to the Ward Line of the President Roosevelt, said Blake's letter, made public today, "is an attempt to restrict foreign steamship companies from freely trading between two countries. There have been and there are laws restricting other countries from competing in coastwise trade, but never before have there been restrictions against international trade."

Called "Fighting Ship."

Called "Fighting Ship."

Called "Fighting Ship."

Blake quoted O'Connor as having referred in a telephone conversation between them to the President Roosevelt as a "fighting ship," and then referred to the shipping act clause prohibiting use of "a fighting ship either separately or in conjunction with any other carrier through agreement or otherwise. The term fighting ship in this act means a vessel used in a particular trade by a carrier or group of carriers for the purpose of excluding, preventing or reducing competition by driving another carrier out of said trade."

Blake's letter concluded, "Our proper

Blake's letter concluded, "Our proper recourse in such circumstances as now confront us would naturally be to refer the matter to your board, but as the ship involved is the board's vessel and is put into the trade on the erms above described by the board, we may find it necessary, if we are damaged to any appreciable extent, to appeal to the courts for relief."

Foreign Lines Penalized.

Foreign Lines Penalized.

Blake later pointed out that if any foreign line were to put a "fighting ship" into service it would be liable to a fine of $25,000.

The shipping row between the British and American interests was brought into the open last week when O'Connor, allocating the President Roosevelt to the Ward Line, said: "The New York-Havana trade route is peculiarly an American trade route."

The next day the Ward Line anmounce a 25 per cent reduction in passenger service on all its ships and on the President Roosevelt, while the Cunard Line was advertising the first sailing of the Caronia to Havana.

(Associated Press.)

Vice Chairman Plummer, of the Shipping Board, declared yesterday that the Cunard Line's letter terming the assignment of the steamship President Roosevelt to the New York-Havana pasenger trade as an illegal act "does not concern the board, as it was a personal one addressed to Chairman O'Connor."

He predicted that the chairman, after his return to Washington next Monday, will make an "interestingly sufficient reply" if he deems an answer necesary.

METROPOLITAN Beginning Today

Gains Up to More Than 20 Points Scored; Funds Advance to 12 Per Cent.

MOTORS ARE SLUGGISH

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Dec. 28 .- With the bull contingent continuing to dominate in the stock market, the situation devel-oped nothing much in the way of varia-tion today. A wide list of issues was lifted from 1 to more than 20 points, 39 going into new high price territory for the year or longer and but 8 new lows being established. The volume of transactions increased considerably, the turnover going close to 4,800,000 shares for the largest total in more than a week.

for the largest total in more than a week.

The scope of the year-end strain in the money market was evidenced in the weekly bank statements and money continued to command the season's highest rates, but speculation proceeded to gather momentum. Traders accepted the small drop in brokers' loans as evidence of the sound character of the buying in the period covered by the weekly report and the decrease came as something of a pleasant surprise, since a majority of those in the financial community had anticipated a moderate upturn in the total.

With the speculative leaders again in the van, stocks were pushed briskly upward by demand from the same powerful sources which turned the market ahead again in the preceding session in the face of the lifting of the demand money rate to the year's high level again.

At Top Price of 12 Per Cent.

Day-to-day accommodation renewed today at the top price of 12 per cent, but almost coincident with the position of the figure word got about that there was scant likelihood of new loans commanding a higher figure.

Around midday when banks called some $35,000,000 there was some doubt of the money market's ability to carry out that claim. Funds in the outside market then commanded substantial premiums above the official figure, but premiums above the official figure, but the stock exchange loaning rate was held to that level and in the late stock dealings operations for the rise took on a bigoant character.

Once again the forces on the side of the advance demonstrated their powerful hold on the market situation at the moment. This element went ahead boldly with the upbidding process, again selecting the more prominent issues as the center of activity.

In the forcepart of the session General Electric, American Can, Johns Manville, Allied Chemical and Public Service of New Jersey were the leaders.

Service of New Jersey were the leaders. In the latter half of the day, Radio, Chrayler, Republic Iron & Steel and United States Steel common took the Dozens up 8 Points or More.

Dozens of issues gained 8 points or more and scores of stocks of all de-scriptions lifted their price levels from Motors Do Little.

Aside from Chrysler, which registered a gain of 5½, and Packard up 1½, the automobile group did little as the annual national automobile show nears National Belias Hess was up nearly 4 points at one stage, but closed 11 points net lower. Royal Baking Powder. 8 points off: Manati Sugar, with a loss of 6¾; Adams Express, down 6½; Case, 9 points lower; Texe Pacific, down 4½; Goodyear, off 4 points, and American Goodyear, off 4 points, and American 9 points lower; Texp Pacific, down 41/6: Goodyear, off 4 points, and American Bank Note, with a recession of 31/2 points, were about the only conspleutous losers.

Despite some strong features in the foreign exchange market, trading was generally quieter there, nearly all yearend settlements having been completed Dutch was in increased demand, making a new high for the movement on an advance of a point. Sterling held at 44.85% for cables. French and Italian eased slightly. Spanish improved fractionally. Little change occurred in Far Easterns. Uruguayan was strong in the South American group, moving up 1/8 cent. Canadian continued heavy, dropping 3 points further with sales at 99.70.

Considerable Investment Buying Enters Market-U.S. Issues Strong.

COPPERS AGAIN LEADERS

New York, Dec. 28 (A.P.) .- Trading increased in volume and prices advanced in sympathy with the strength of stocks on the bond market today, the general list closing irregularly higher. There appeared to be considerable investment buying, especially in the U. S. Government group, where all but one issue made sub-stantial gains. Utilities and oils displayed group strength. Total sales

Public Service of New Jersey 41/28, paring more than 14 points to a new top at 17914, led the rise of the utilities. The issue yielded to profit-taking, but closed with a net gain of 13 points. International Telephone convertible 4½s also were in demand, but the gain in this, as in most other utility issues, was fractional. Barnadall 6s, with a gain of about 2 points, was outstanding among the firmer oils.

was outstanding among the firmer oils.

Coppers resumed the leadership of the industrials, Andes Copper 7s soaring 8 points and Anaconda 7s. 5 points. Chile Copper 5s and Tennessee Copper 6s, however, continued to sag. Other strong Industrial included Pathe Exchange 7s, Loew's 6s, the Bethlehem Steel issues, which rose a point or more each, National Dairy Products 5½s, Westinghouse 5s and Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s.

Rails were irregular and some fairly wide gains were scattered among smaller declines. Gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by such issues as Green Bay & Wisconsin Debenture B, Interborough Rapid Transit 6s, Cuba Northern Railways 5½s, New York Central convertible 6s and Refunding 4½s, and Wisconsin Central 4s, Baltimore & Ohio 5s, Cuba Railway first 5s, Pennsylvania Gold 4½s, Soo 5s, Great Northern 7s and others, however, sold off as much as 4 points.

The foreign list was irregular. A break in Bolivian government issues reflected renewed threats of war with Paraguay and caused selling of Latin-American issues generally.

Paraguay and caused selling of Latin-American issues generally.

Curb Review

New York, Dec. 28 (A.P.) .- High call money rates failed to dampen bullish enthusiasm in today's curb market, which moved irregularly higher under the leadership of the oil, public utility the leadership of the oil, public utility and merchandising issues. A few soft spots cropped out here and there as traders took profits in recently strong issues, but there was a marked increase in public participation, a d at least a score of issues moved into new high ground.

Failure of the call money rate to go above the 12 per cent level, coupled with favorable trade news and a fresh crop of dividend and merger rumors, stimulated the demand for stocks. Fears of heavy tax selling proved to be unfounded, and "shorts" in some of the high-priced issues found it hard to extricate themselves from a difficult position without boosting prices.

infounded, and "shorts" in some of the high-priced issues found it hard to extricate themselves from a difficult position without boosting prices.

Public utilities moved forward under the leadership of Electric Bond & Share, which soared nearly 10 points to a new high record at 180 and closed within a fraction of the top. Federal Water A, Southeasttern Power & Light and American Superpower B also moved into new high ground Substantial gains were recorded by Northeastern Power, United Gas Improvement, Mohawk & Hudson Power and several others.

Merchandising issues responded to reports of record-breaking holiday trade and rumors of new alignments. Neisner Bros. issues sold at their best prices of the year, Dominion Stores jumped for the Hahn Department Stores issues.

Vacuum, advancing 10% points to a new high at 10934, was the leader of the oil group. Imperial Oil advanced more than 4 points.

Deere & Co. soared 24 points to a new high at 10934, was the leader of the oil group. Imperial Oil advanced more than 4 points.

Money Turnover Increases.

The volume of money turnover indicated by check payments during the week ended December 22 was greater than in either the preceding week or the corresponding period last year, according to the weekly summary of the business situation published yesterday by the Department of Commerce. Steel plants showed lessened activity during the week ended December 22, as compared with the preceding week, but were almost 20 per cent more active than a year ago.

Loans and discounts of Federal Reserve member banks showed only slight change from the previous week, but were higher than a year ago. Interest rates on time money averaged higher than in either the preceding week or in the same period of last year. Prices for stocks recovered from the level of the preceding week. Bond prices, reflecting higher interest rates, were still lower than in either the preceding week or the same period of 1927.

Busings failures were more numerous than in either prior period.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Dec. 28 (A.P.).—Big deliveries both of corn and wheat in settlement of Chicago December contracts did much today to force grain prices down. Today's deliveries of corn here totaled $87.00 bushels and of wheat 710,000 bushels. Besidas, enlarged estimates of the exportable wheat surplus of Argentina and Australia were current.

HUDKINS' WILD ATTACK WINS DECISION OVER DE VOS

Football Code Satisfactory, Is Opinion

No Material Changes Desired, Says Head of Committee.

Pass and Kick Rulings Held Fair to Both Defense, Attack.

Describing football as now at the happy stage where "the underdog shall always have the chance to come back," Edward K. Hall, of New York and Dartmouth, chairman of the National Intercollegiate Football Rules Committee, declared in his annual report today he sees no need or desirability for any material changes in gridiron rules for 1929.

Mr. Hall's report was read to the convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. After describing the benefits derived from changes effected in the football code this year, he conn the football code this year, he con-

"As to the rules for 1929, I think I speak for all my associates in express-ing the belief that the experience of the ing the belief that the experience of the past season has not disclosed either the necessity or the desirability of any material changes in the rules. There are perhaps a few contingencies that can be made clearer, but the game itself seems to be about right."

The rules committees chairman praised the results of having an advisory committee of three coaches attend the rules sessions, an innovation this year, and disclosed the intention of making this a permanent arrangment. A committee of officials sits with the rule makers.

Recodification of the rules, under-taken over a year ago and which it had been hoped to complete for 1929, may not be finished before 1930, Mr.

Hall revealed.
Rule changes involving protection for the backward or lateral pass and recovery of a kicked ball, put into effect this year, have proved satisfactory, in his opinion. He concluded that uncertainty and complication in official rulings has been removed. In addition to which a better balance has been struck between offense and defense. "Seldom if ever have we seem more upsets or more games snatched from defeat in the second half," he added.

The effective use of the backward pass by several teams during the past season "gives real promise as to its ultimate possibilities," Mr. Hall reported.

No indication of sympathy with hose who would move the goal posts back to their old position or eliminate back to their old position or eliminate the point after touchdown is contained in the rules report. Mr. Hall ad-mitted the intensive development of the forward pass during the past ten years has tended to detract from the kicking feature of the game but added: "It has been gratifying to notice, especially during the latter part of the season, the increasing number of goals from the field and a larger utilization of the kicking game than last year."

Hoppe Picks 3-Cushion Championship as Goal

New York, Dec. 28 (A.P.).—For the first time in more than twenty years Willie Hoppe, many times holder of the title. Will not take part in the world's 18.2 balkline billiards championship tournament, starting here Feburuay 4. Officials of the National Billiard Association, sponsors of the tournament, gave him his choice between playing in the 18.2 championship or the three-cushion tournament, in which he won second place at Chicago. "Inasmuch as I had qualified for the three-cushion tournament. I saw no reason to withdraw in favor of balkline," Hoppe said "This will be the first major balkline tournament I have missed since 1906 I still think the playing of three cushions has not impaired by balkline game, but evidently

Bobby Jones Joins Staff
Of AmericanGolfMonthly
New York, Dec. 28 (U.P.).—Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, amateur golf champion of the United States, has joined the editorial board of the monthly American Golfer, according to an announcement in the current issue. Jones will contribute articles on the game and will sit in at meetings of the council which decides upon the magazine's policies.

His address in open session during the morning came up for discussion during the executive meeting this afternoon. After the association had adjourned until next year, Gen, Pierce briefly told newspaper men that his recommendations were being referred to a committee for study. He said the committee had not yet been appointed. The address also brought another subject before the association when Gen. Pierce maintained that his body should be permitted to pass on the amateur status of its own athletes in participation of the Olympic and A. A. U. games instead of the union directly handling the registration.

At the closed session Gen. Pierce, head of the N. C. A. A. for some 20 years, was reelected president.

Will Tighten Rein on Walker.

A working agreement which is abo o be concluded by the New York a Illinois Boxing Consissions will enable the overlords of the sport to apply pres sure on champions like Mickey Walke to compel them to defend their title at regular intervals against qualified challenges. Chicago has been Mickey's favorite stamping grounds ever since me won the middleweight title and frehe won the mindleweight with a puent employment there has enabled him to ignore the orders of the New York Commission. With New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massaturatte, Connecticut and Rhode Island inois, Fennsylvania, michigan, massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island working hand in hand, Mr. Walker probably will discover that if he wants to hold recognition as champion he will have to go to work at the trade.

Ban on "Punch Drunk" Fighters.

Menaces Employment Situation. Menaces Employment Situation.

If Paul Prehn, president of the National Boxing Association, succeeds in persuading all boxing commissions to bar "punch-drunk" fighters and youngsters bound nowhere in particular, except in the general direction of a hospital cot, there will be serious unemployment in the ranks of the fisticuffers this season. The New York Commission already has cone good work along this line in ordering matchmakers not to sign certain boxers who are clearly through, but the list could be extended considerably. Some of the so-called "good club fighters," now performing in local rings, are beaten so frequently that it is getting monotonous to that it is getting monotonous watch them taking punishment.

Them Days Are Gone Forever, De Vos Reception Proves.

The reception for Rene D. Vos held at the St. Regis last night was one more reminder that times have changed in the howing world since the days when a fighter enjoyed about the same social status as a second-story man. There was a time when the St. Regis would have called the constabulary if a prize fighter so much as entered its lobby Now a fighter, especially if he is a champion, is welcomed in drawing rooms and college lecture halls and the best hotels solicit his patronage.

Men of affairs like Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, jr., and Walter P. Chrysler dabble in the business end of boxing as a hobby, while others have found that there is big money to be made in the sport. No wonder Jim Corbett regrets that his birth was not delayed 40 years. (New York World News Service.)

down the curtain on football for 1928 in colorful fashion.

The fourth annual charity game for the Shriner's Crippied Children's Hospital will be played before upward of 50,000 persons. It matches two teams of practically equal strength, with the Eastern squad holding an advantage in the matter of practice and favored with a more versatle back field combination. On the line, the Westerners are more powerful.

Several all-Americans named this year by the Associated Press will parade their wares before the assembled thousands. Malcolm "Ike" Franklan, St. Mary's end, who was picked for the first all-American, will play the left flank position for the West. He will be opposed by Jonsos of Northwestern.

Alongside of Frankain will be Mel Dressell, Washington State tackle, who made the second mythford full back and a second team selection, will do the full backing for the West.

The outfit from the Eastern side of the Rockies includes McMullen, Ne braska, and Gibson, Minnesota, both guards and both named for the second all-American, and Harpster, Carnegie Tech quarter back, and Nowack, Illi-nois tackle, both third team selections. Several members of the teams have Salt Lake City, Utan, Dec. 28 (A.P.).

His place will be taken by Morton Kaer, former Southern California all-American. Kaer is a star but he is out of condition and has had but one day's practice with the team.

By ALAN J. GOULD

a spectacular ten-round match at Madison Square Garden.
Hudkins won by the ancient and simple expedient of out-clouting the Belgian in a bout that was fought at an astonishingly furious as well as exciting pace from start to finish. The Nebraskan, with the corn-colored hair and flailing fists, kept on top of his rival in nearly every round, but he was hard pressed to withstand a great rally by the Belgian in the eighth and ninth rounds.

After 10 bristling rounds, in which Hudkins' persistent punching was matched against Devos' sharper, cleaner hitting, the Nebraskan gained the official decision only through votes of the two judges. Both agreed on the Ace after the referee, Lou Magnolia, voted the hattle a draw.

the battle a draw. There was considerable booing as a good share of the crowd, as well as many of the ringside critics, appeared to agree with the referee that a draw would have been a fair verdict but on the Associated Press score sheet. Hudkins was accorded the edge in five rounds and Devos in four, with one, the fourth, even.

The crowd of 18,090 customers who contributed to a "gate" of $74,505.59, got its biggest thrill in the ninth round when Devos nad Hudkins bleeding and groggy under a series of solid hooks and smashes to the head. This was the nearest either battler came to being wobbly at all. Hudkins, however, not only weathered the storm, but emerged in the tenth with so furious an attack that he checked the Belgian's rush and actually took the lead once more in a rousing finish. Hudkins won the tenth round by a shade and the fight along with it for there appeared little or no difference on points as they went into the final on points as they went into the final flurry of gloves. Both battlers were cut and bleeding as the fight progressed. De Vos had a big welt over one eye and his nose was cut, while Hudkins bled freely from cuts

De Vos had a slight weight advantage, scaling 158 ¼ to 155 ½ for Hudkins, whose victory over the widely-heralded foreigner with the aristocratic backing of "Tony" Biddle, of Philadelphia, establishes him as the leading contender for Mickey Walker's title. Biddle, introduced from the ring before the bout, patted both fighters on the back impartially before the bell sent them off. Hudkins rushed into action in the Belgian's shoulder as he swung both fists. De Vos broke away and speared Ace with a solid right to the chin, but Hudkins clouted his rival with a roundhouse swing at the bell. Rene clipped house swing at the bell. Rene clipped the Ace every time he broke away from the Wildcat's flailing grasp in the second round, but it was mostly a head-to-head affair.

Hudkins slugged and bruised De Vos in the third as he plunged in recklessly. The Belgian's right eye had a big welt tover it. They fought at a furious pace in the fourth as De Vos met the Wildcat at his own game. The crowd yelled as they gave each other both fists in a succession of wild flurries.

De Vos, after abandoning a brief long range attempt, salled back in and outpunched Hudkins in the fifth. The Wildcat appeared a trifle tired, but came out for the sixth with a characteristic rush. He stung the Belglan with a loop-ing left and had De Vos giving ground under a two-fisted barrage.

There was no let-up in the pace in the seventh. Hudkins continued to force the fight, slashing and uppercuting, but the Belgian countered sharply and had the Ace bleeding from the mouth. De Vos staged a raily in the eighth, clipping Hudkins savagely with short hooks.

The Ace, still boring in, lost some of the sting from his punches in the ninth. De Vos staggered the Nebraskan and had him bleeding a stream from a slashing attack. The Ace was groggy and badly battered at the bell.

Hudkins sprang out with a wild rush in the tenth and last round, but De Vos met him with cool precision. The Ace was groggy, but refused to give ground under the Belgian's sharpest clouts. They slugged furiously as the crowd roared and in the last minute Hudkins had De Vos in retreat with a smashing drive.

special to The Washington Post. BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 28.—The most surprising development in the national indoor tennis competition for the younger racketers occurred today at the Flifth Regiment Armory when Frank Shore, junior champion of the District of Columbia, eliminated Donald M. Frame, Harvard University luminary. The score was 6—3, 3—6, 7—5.

Frame who was seaded sixth on the 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

Frame, who was seeded sixth on the list in the junior division, apparently had underestimated the menace Shore constituted to his progress and he paid the penalty. However, the result might have been the same had Frame been fully aware of his danger, for Shore, stroking hard and accurately, was a tennis player today to be respected in any youthful company.

Realizing that he had everything to gain and nothing to lose by taking chances. Shore threw caution 40 the winds and smashed everything in sight as he drove from the baseline and volleyed from the net in the first set. The result was that Frame was a beaten netman in the first set before he had a chance to tune his game to the demands of the contest.

It was Frame's turn to take chances In the second set and he played a clever brand of tennis while running out the set by the same score by which shore had won the opener.

The third and deciding set bristled with spectacular shots and hard gets by each player and the efforts of the youngsters brought round after round of applause from the spectators. Shore's willingness to try for everything and drive for placements when he had the opportunity was the deciding factor in Elevens Meet for Title Tomorrow.

BEFORE the Northern Prep and Pal-ace A. C. Elevens meet tomorrow at Union League Park at 2 o'clock at Union League Park at 2 o'clock to decide the 135-pound champlonship of the Capital City League, an unusually interesting preliminary has been arranged in the form of a game between the National Press Building Cardinals and Brookland A. C. at 12 o'clock noon. This contest has been arranged as an added attraction for football fans who will wend their way to the Fifteenth and H street park tomorrow. The Press Building Cards have as their incentive a crack at the Palace should they win over the Brooklands, and should the Palace win over the Northern Preps. The managers of the two teams have had their heads together a long while in an effort to arrange a game, with agreement reached only on the conditions mentioned above.

The Press Cards, organized too late to enter the Capital City League, have long been rivals of the Palace Eleven, and since their season in 135-pound independent football circles has been exceptionally successful this year, want to play the Pajace should it beat the Northerns. It is only on this condition that the Palace agrees to play.

The championship game will find both the Northern Preps and Palace on edge tomorrow, with each camp claiming a victory. The week has seen the Northerns engaged in secret practice.

The two teams want to decide the issue tomorrow. A clean, snappy game will be their motto when they line up for the opening kick off.

Northern and Palace Situation Acute With Court at Tech Not Ready.

RAMPED seating conditions will have to be endured by followers of the public high school basket ball series, it is believed, for the first two weeks of the series at least. This is the obvious conclusion drawn from the fact learned last night that the Tech High School gymmasium which school officials had planned to use will not be ready for the staging of series games until late in January or early in February.

The same situation confronts the games of the Georgetown University equintet in the resumption of the Hills, top court schedule after the holidays. It had been hoped by Georgetown athletic authorities to use the Tech floor also.

The lack of seats and baskets in The lack of seats and baskets in the Tech gymnasium forces the postponement of the opening of the court. Bilds have been opened for the purchase of the seats, and the 30-day period during which prospective contractors may make their bids has not yet expired. A delay has been encountered in the forwarding of the baskets by the manufacturer from Philadelphia.

What floors will be used for the school series and the Georgetown games until the Tech gymnasium is any floor that may be obtained will not have the seating capacity thought to be necessary to handle the large crowds scholasite and collegiate basket ball of scholastic and collegiate basket ball fans expected to attend.

It is possible that Georgetown will use its own Ryan gymnasium in the emergency while the school series pos-sibly will be staged at George Wash-ington University, where it was held several seasons back, or in the gymna-siums of the five schools with the game sites rotating with the schedule.

Convention Hall Wins Team and Doubles; Lose Singles.

THE Convention Hail bowlers carried off the majority of the honors in their intercity match with the All Star team from Stamford. Conn., at the Convention Hall alleys last night. The matches produced some of the most interesting bowling of the season. Washington won the team match, the doubles and a special ringles match. In the regular scheduled singles, however, Jack White nationally known star, defeated Glenn Wolsteinbolme.

Wolsteinolme.
Convention Hall gained a commanding lead in the first game of the team match, rolling a 616 game to 496 for the Stamford team and added to its margin of victory in the two remaining games. Jack Wolsteinolme was the bright star of the team competition. He turned in games of 141, 146 and 123 for a set of 410. Cahill, of Stamford, was high for his team with 324.

The doubles provided the feature match of the night. The Washington pair of Jack Wolstenholme and Jack Whalen were 11 pins behind the Connecticut team of Porto and White entering the tenth box. Wolstenholm, first up, made a spare and counted a strike on it.

Whalen then followed with a strike and a nine count which gave the Dis-trict pair a margin of 8 pins. The lead see-sawed in the match from start to finish.

In the singles, Glenn Wolstenholme was far away from his usual form. He had a high game of 116 and, with a 98, had a set of 527 to 558 for Jack White. However, the Washington backers had something to cheer about in the challenge match which followed.

Jack Wolstenholme rolled White a three-game set. After beginning with a 126 game, White slumped and Wolstenholme came through with games of 137 and 120 to win, 358 to 319.

Wives of Tomorrow

EAR Miss McDonald: I read the article you wrote about rejecting

DEAR Miss McDonald: I read the article you wrote about rejecting love for material considerations and I want to tell my story.

Sixteen years ago I was poor, ambitious, full of energy and deeply in love. She was high-strung, but in my eyes perfect, and we, too, were just waiting for a "raise," when the firm I was with went bankrupt. I quickly found another job, but our plans were set back. Instantly my sweetheart turned cold. I pleaded for time, made a weak fool of myself, and in the end lost her anyway. She married a widower who had what I lacked.

She did not love him and was miserable with him for seven years, finally leaving him. Meanwhile my foneliness for myself, and in seven years was handing out "raises" to others instead of climbing up. Then I got instead of praying for them myself. But here is the queer part. Nothing has ever mattered to me since. It is not that I want her. I could have her on any terms, but would have her on on once. She passed out of my life, and out of existence so far as I am concerned at the same moment.

But whatever it did to me, nothing that I have accomplished, nothing that can ever come, can mean anything to me! I was just a fool who only wanted love, and to serve where I loved. I wanted love, and to serve where I loved. I wanted to work for a woman and our children. I wanted just to be loved and looked to by a loved group.

Well, I got it good and plenty. I was definitely shown the door to the cold world, and very firmly put in my place. I didn't get the girl, and the other things that would make life worth living.

I am 44 now, and a little this side of the million mark yet, but will hit it.

things that would make life worth living.

I am 44 now, and a little this side of the million mark yet, but will hit it before I am 50, and I haven't had a single thing out of life. I have never really felt anything since that girl handed me back my ring.

You can say I am crazy, or what you will, but what I have said is the truth. I meet her often. She means nothing to me, though she does not believe that. In fact, I am sure she feels that I still care, since I have married no other woman. But this is not it. I simply decided women were not worth all the fuss made over them, and were not what men were taught to believe them to be. I see them now as greedy creatures with grasping souls, getting, sitten wears ago I was on the top getting.

Sixteen years ago I was on the top of the world. I loved. I was loved. I was loved. I was poor but thrilling in every fiber.

Today I am rich. And I look back at that fellow in the overalls waiting for his raise, and I wonder how a ptuffed thing like myself was ever that live, vibrant spirit.

live, vibrant spirit.

Women don't amount to much as I see it, and a lot of misery would be saved by teaching that fact at the

Radio Heads Will Discuss 304.5-WJZ New York-760. Allocations

Results of Nation-wide Survey Will Be Reported at January 11 Meeting. Improvements for 1929 Another Topic to Be Up.

Following an epochal radio year with record-breaking sales and using of radio, plans for 1929 radio, including improved radio products and broadcasting, will be discussed January 11 in New York by the board of directors of the Radio Manufacturers Association. "No revolutionary changes in receiving-set construction are in immediate prospect," said Maj. H. H. Frost, president of the association, "but marked improvements, including those of design, loud speakers and other progres sive developments are assured. Broadcasting, program and transmission, for the radio public also will be broadened

Broadcasting problems, including the new reallocations and future legislation, will have a prominent place on the di-rectors docket. The legislative commit-tee, headed by Chairman C. C. Colby, of Boston, will present an extensive re-port on the broadcast reallocation, in-cluding results of a Nation-wide survey among its nearly 300 manufacturers.

Radio industry events of 1929 will be headed by the annual trade show at Chicago during the week of June 3. This show and convention drew about 25,000 radio trade visitors last year and is the largest industrial gathering in the United States.

ANY persons make "resolutions" for the New Year. They say they will do better than in the past year. Sometimes they stop a bad habit, sometimes they start a good one.

A letter has been received by The Post from C. E. Currier, of 3012 Park place northwest, which reads:

"Sunday evening between 6 and 7:15 o'clock, while listening to WFAN and WDAF alternately fade in and out or. the 493 meter wave, I several times heard a long announcement in the school one.

I have been wondering what I mfight suggest to boys and girls as New Year's It seems to me that a good habit to form is to be helpful. Instead of causing trouble for your parents, why not your and will be important all your help them to have happier lives?

In the playground and in the school one.

I have been wondering what I mfight your of the promise to me that a good habit to form is to be helpful. Instead of causing trouble for your parents, why not you have to have a life. Even when you have to have a long announcement in the playground and in the school one.

o'clock, while listening to WFAN and will be important to one the 493 meter wave. I several times heard a long announcement in a foreign language, followed by music by a large band or orchestra. Can you, or any chance, tell me the station?"

Inquiry at the radio division of the Department of Canadian shared channels and it is just yeal any foreign station on that wave length. Very close to it however, are Canadian shared channels and it is just possible something may have filtered in from the neighboring stations to the North.

If any one else has heard this station the Radio Editor of The Poat would be glad to know about it.

In and will be important to help them to have happier lives?

In the playground and in the school room, you can be either helpful or hurtful. To shoot paper was or peas around the room may seem like fun to you—but it is not fun for the person who is hit. Think this over. Maybe you will figure out a dozen ways to be helpful.

In closing I suggest that it may now be a good time to start clipping out the Corner to make a scrapbook. I have seen Corner scrapbooks made by several boys and girls; and the owners seem very glad to have such books.

If any one else has heard this station the Radio Editor of The Poat would be glad to know about it.

WMBI on the dial is 277.6 meters, 1.080 kilocycles, and it has a cleared channel. Dr. H. Framer Smith will speak on the theme. "Through the Bible Book by Book" and may be heard each Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Eastern standard time. "Outlines of Old Testament History" will be given by Iris Ikeler McCord each Friday at 11:30 a. m. A new course in missions will be presented by the Rev. John R. Riebe, who was for six years a missionary in Africa This subject will be on the air each Wednesday at 4 p. m.

How to Keep Well

To the limit of space, questions per-tinent to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to in-quiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

79 to 404 in District TN a masterful book dealing with malaria, influenza and piague, Dr. C. A. Gill has this to say: "Suffici-Seventy-nine new cases of influenza were reported to the District Health ent unto the day is the evil thereof" Department yesterday, sending the to-tal reported since December 1 to 404.

The number of deaths from the disease epidemic be regarded not as coming tude in mundane affairs, but if an epidemic be regarded not as coming like a boit from the blue upon an unsuspecting and unprepared world but at the culminating point in a series of events which follow one another in ordered sequence to their inevitable conclusion, it is clear that the release of epidemiologic puts on the outbreak. while Surgeon General Cumming be-lieves that the epidemic is serious and likely to continue spreading. Dr. Willsaid yesterday that there was no reason for alarm here and he again warned of epidemiologic units on the outbreaks of epidemics and the prompt inception when the relation between the mass of infection, on the one hand and the resistance to the disease becomes right, the epidemic breaks away and sweeps over the world.

After such a world epidemic pools of infection are left in almost every country. There are more of these left-behind, pools in colder countries than in those which are warmer.

These pools overflow every few years, causing local and seasonal waves of influenza. There are probably such pools in America. Some of them will not dry up before the next great wave comes along. During the next great wave the people around these pools will get off lighter than the people elsewhere.

There are always preliminary waves which give warnings of the big wave. The high pneumonia rate of the spring of 1918 should have warned us of the great wave of October, 1918.

There is an immunity to the disease with most people this is a short lived immunity; with others it may be long. How badly we are hit by a wave depends on the amount of infection on the one hand and the degree of community immunity on the other. The prevalence of the disease and the time of outbreaks are largely determined by the weather. The particular weather which opens the flood gates is low temperature, high humidity and considerable rainfall.

If, when influenza is ready to strike, there comes a day or two of cold, wet, foggy weather, look out for trouble five days later.

correct weight?

2. Is it injurious for a man 70 years old, hale and hearty, to take a hot shower bath, followed by a cold shower, every morning?

REPLY.

1. 188 pounds is about the right weight for your height. Much depends on the size of the bones, length of body, and general build.

2. No. I assume after the bath the man's skin is pink and he feels aglow.

"But I want to tell you that it is a dangerous game to play. And just because I happened to get somewhere without much school education is not reason at all for you fellows to think you can do it. Maybe I was just lucky. The more a fellow has in his head to start with in these days the better off he is when he gets to running."

Answer—Unfortunately, some of the things we want when we are young and of epidemiologic units on the outbreaks of epidemics and the prompt inception of control measures are poor substitutes for sustained effort during interepidemic periods."

It is ten years since the last great epidemic of influenza. There is every reason to expect the next one of the series between 1938 and 1945. They have come at about the interval indicated in the past and they will continue to come periodically in the future.

During the last ten years we have done little to find out facts about influenza. How much will we do in the next ten years?

Dr. Gill's opinion about the nature of influenza are about as follows:

The disease breeds in certain great land areas well to the north. The principal of these is in northwestern Asia. There may be less important breeding places in Canada.

When the relation between the mass of infection, on the one hand and the resistance to the disease becomes right, the epidemic breaks away and sweeps

CONGRESS TO GET DISTRICT'S FISCAL SURVEY NEXT WEEK

Efficiency Bureau Announces Report on Appropriation Needs Is Ready.

PRESENT POLICY OF U. S. GIVING LUMP-SUM ISSUE

Civic and Trade Associations Confident Data Will Show Percentage Basis Best.

The report of the Bureau of Efficiency on its study of the fiscal relations between the United States and District of Columbia governments will be submitted to Congress next week. Herbert D. Brown, chief of the bureau, announced yesterday.

The report is expected to determine ence and for all whether the present plan whereby the Federal Government pays a lump sum of $9.000,000 as its share of the cost of government here is to be continued or abandoned.

With the cost of running the city now close to $40,000,000. the Federal Government's contribution of $9.000,000 represents only about 25 per cent of the total, which means that the District has to bear the 75 per cent.

Once on 50-50 Basis.

At one time the Federal and District governments paid the bill on a 50-50 basis. Later came the 60-40 plan, whereby the District paid 60 per cent and the Federal Government 40 per cent. Finally, at the instance of Representative Cramton, of Michigan, the practice of having the Federal Gove 1-ment contribute a lump sum of $3000 to ment contribute a lump sum of $9,000,-000 was inaugurated.

The fiscal relations study made by the bureau is one of the most exhaustive inquiries ever undertaken by that organization, and has been under way ever since the close of the first sessions of the Seventieth Congress.

Civic and trade bodies here are

Percentage Foes Confident.

Advocates of the lump-sum policy, se Cramton and Representative Simmons, of Nebraska, are just as confident that it will back up their Hearings on the District appropriacharings on the District appropria-tion bill are to be started by the District subcommittee of the House appropriations committee July 3, and probably will be underway by the time the Bureau's report arrives at

If the report should advocate abandonment of the lump-sum policy in favor of a percentage ratio, it is hoped that the subcommittee will hoped that the subcommittee will insert such a provision in the ap-propriations bill. However, no as-surance has been given that this will be done.

6 Days of Yule in Jail

Deciding incarceration in the District Jail over Christmas was sufficient punishment. Stanley Snow, convicted of two assault charges, was freed on a suspended sentence by Judge Ralph Given yesterday in Police Court.

Going to the home of his estranged wife, Mrs. Irene Snow, of 2114 N street northwest, on December 22 Snow is said to have dragged her from her bed and beaten her. He is also alleged to have struck Fannie Blurton, when she came to the aid of his wife. He was arrested the following day, convicted of the charges and sentenced to jail. After promising Judge Given he would not molest his wife in the future he was freed on suspended sentences of 60 days on each charge.

Girl Says Dance Offer Took Form of Assault

Accusing Kenneth Dorr, of 623 Fitteenth street northeast, of practicing "cave man" tactics at a dance, Miss Myra Courtney, of 729 Thirteenth street southeast, swore out a warrant before Assistant District Attorney Joseph C. Bruce in Police Court yesterday charging. Dorr specifically with assault.

Miss Courtney complained that while she was dancing with a girl friend at a dance in Elks Hall. H street between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, a few nights ago, Dorr rudely separated her from her partner and slapped her in the face. Dorr is at liberty under $10 collateral. Hearing of the case was continued yesterday when it was reported Dorr was ill.

A. E. Hanson Elected By Technology Alumni

A. E. Hanson was elected president of the Washington Society of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the annual meeting yesterday in the University Club.

Five bodies will be buried in a single grave at Arlington National Cemetery this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when those of Quartermaster Sergt. Arthur L. Wadsworth, Jr., his wife and three small daughters, victims of accidental gas asphyxiation, will be interred. The five were killed by illuminating gas fumes following the bursting of a pipe in their residence in Philadelphia Monday. A fourth child is still in a critical condition.

The burial, War Department officials explained, does not establish a precedent in permitting interment of the children of enlisted men, action being taken because Sergt Wadsworth was a warrant officer during the World War.

H. L. Rust Co., real estate, was filed in the District Supreme Court yesterday by Horace C. Stilwell, broker, of New York City, who complained he is due commissions for refinancing the hotel property last spring.

The broker says he was employed by the hotel company March 26 to obtain a loan of $900.000 on the property, and under an agreement was to receive $40,-500 less the expenses of the loan. The company made application with the Prudential Insurance Co. for a loan and agreed to pay him 4½ per cent commission, he said, last april 6. Shortly afterward counsel for the hotel company notified him that the contract had been terminated, he charged, but went ahead with the negotiations with the insurance company and obtained the loan on July 3.

Stilwell named the real estate company in the suit as agent for the insurance company, because he did not know the amount of expenses which were paid to the real estate company as a result of the negotiations, he declared. Attorneys Edward F. Colladay and Joseph McGarraghy filed the suit.

Nephew Says He Spent Most of $1,600 Profit While Living in Chicago.

Thomas Edison Williams, 21-year-

Thomas Edison Williams, 21-yearold news-stand proprietor, of Tampa, Fla., late yesterday afternoon was brought to this city by Detective Sergt.
H. K. Wilson on a warrant charging robbery in connection with the bold holdup of Harry E. Lohmeyer, manager at the Earle Theater here, on the morning of October 29.

The Tampa youth's nephew, Elmo
William Williams, also 21 years old, was brought back to this city from his home in Chicago Thursday and fully confessed that he held up Lohmeyer in his office and mailed most of his loot to his uncle in Florida for safe keeping. During the three months since the robbery, he said, he has drawn and spent all of the approximately $1,600 which he admits he obtained.

Florida Man Shabbly Attired.

The Florida man, whose timidity and shabby attire is in direct contrast to the suavity and elegant clothes of his nephew, admitted to Detective Wilson on the return trip from Tampa that he had held a large part of the loot subject to Elmo's orders, but declared that the latter had requisitioned it all and that he no longer had any of the money.

Thomas is said to have admitted, however, that he realized that something was wrong in the transaction, but denied that he had any knowledge of the holdup or how his nephew came into possession of such a large amount of money.

Detective Sergt, Wilson appeared tired out by his Florida trip and was loath to discuss the case in detail, but he intimated that Thomas Williams, on the return trip, had given him information which may implicate a third person in the handling of the money. He said that Thomas was well thought of in Tampa, and has a good record there.

Police Plan Further Questioning.

The Florida youth, after being booked at heedquarters, was sent to the First Precinct station, and ordered held incommunicado. His nephew is held incommunicado. His nephew is being detained at the Twelfth Precinc station, and both of them will be questioned further before being ai-raigned.

A peculiar circumstance in the detention of the two men is the fact that Elmo, who has readily confessed commission of the holdup, has been formally booked only on a technical charge of investigation, while beade the name of his uncle, who never before has been in this city, appears the charge of robbery.

Doyle, of the Civil service Commission, indicated that the negro constituted 9.9 per cent of the country's population, and filled 9.1 per cent of Federal positions. It was pointed out by Thomas, however, that the greatest per cent of these positions were in the lowest level at an average salary of 81.025. Washington Police Seek Jail Fugitive
